Peter Vaill

“A final chronic problem with teaching and training about leadership is that there’s doing it and then there’s talking about it. No amount of talking about it seems to result in people becoming better at doing it.”

How CLC Works

Teams are made up of six students

Each team has a coach (the heart of the experience)

We train the coaches in the Fall (Weekly Practice Guide/Coaches Guide)

Teams can be curricular or co-curricular (It's about 50/50)

Each team learns the curriculum, practices, and learns the rubric

The curriculum is a piece of integrative scholarship of about 10 topics (content/skill-based)

The season is January-April, 2024

We host monthly coach meetings

There is an online virtual scrimmage in February

How CLC Works – The Competition

There are two live and one online competition

There are six activities

Each student leads one activity

Teams are given an activity sheet and 45 minutes to complete the challenge. We develop all activities

Teams reflect after each activity – coaches lead the reflection

Two judges complete the Leader & Team Effectiveness Skill Sheet, and their scores are averaged

Teams are scored on process (100 points) and results (100 points)

There is an awards ceremony!

The team holds a season debrief meeting after the competition to reflect and connect the dots
